RE: Annual inspection for License Renewal

GI Auto Salvage
Old Bloomfield Avenue
Pine Brook, NJ 07058

Date: 1-25-17

I, the undersigned, conducted an inspection at the above depicted business as a requirement for the renewal of their 2017 Junkyard License. I have enclosed copies of the photos taken during the inspection for your review.

There were no activities including junk, new or used vehicles beyond the approved licensed area. All business signs with the exception of stop signs and directional signs attached to the entrance fence have been removed from their previous locations at the entrance site.

The parking area previously utilized by customers in the past now contains approximately twenty five vehicles as depicted in several photos taken during the inspection. New vehicles are parked in an orderly fashion beyond the secured entrance gate covering the majority of the property.

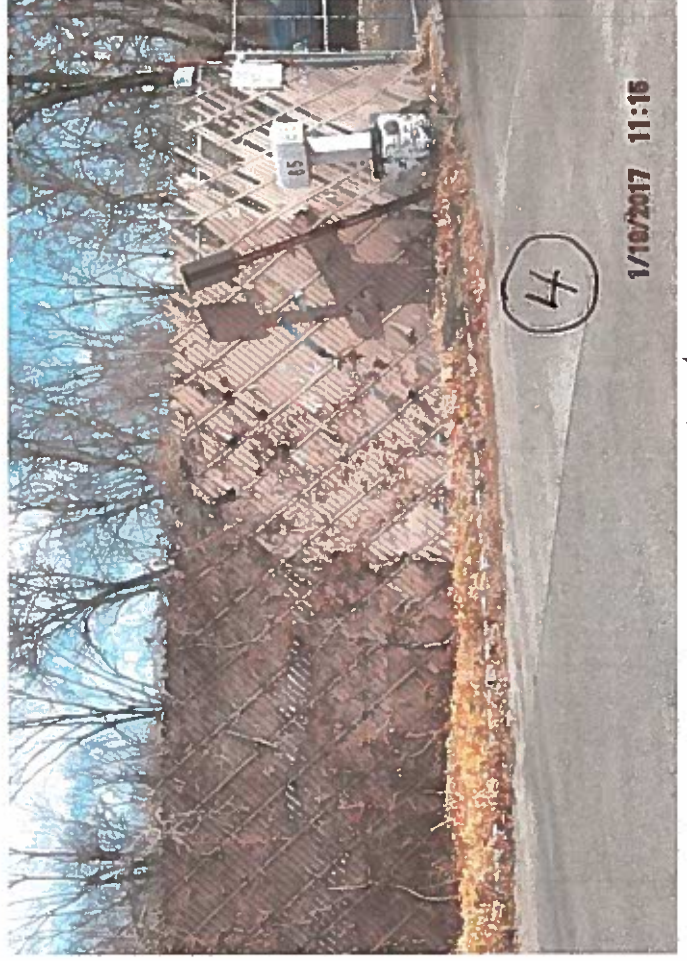

The unsightly perimeter fence sections located at the corner of Maple and Bloomfield Avenue is in need of repair. The fence slats need to be removed and or replaced with new ones. I have notified the owner as such to make the necessary repairs and or replacement within the next 30 days. See photo marked 4.

The wooden construction mats approved for temporary storage as per approval ZD7-14 are no longer being stored at the site.

An inquiry as to the number of vehicles allowed to be stored at this site has surfaced. There is no limitation to the number of vehicles being stored at this site on record with any previous approvals except for two Waiver of Site Plan applications designating a particular dealership with a specific amount of vehicles and time frame.

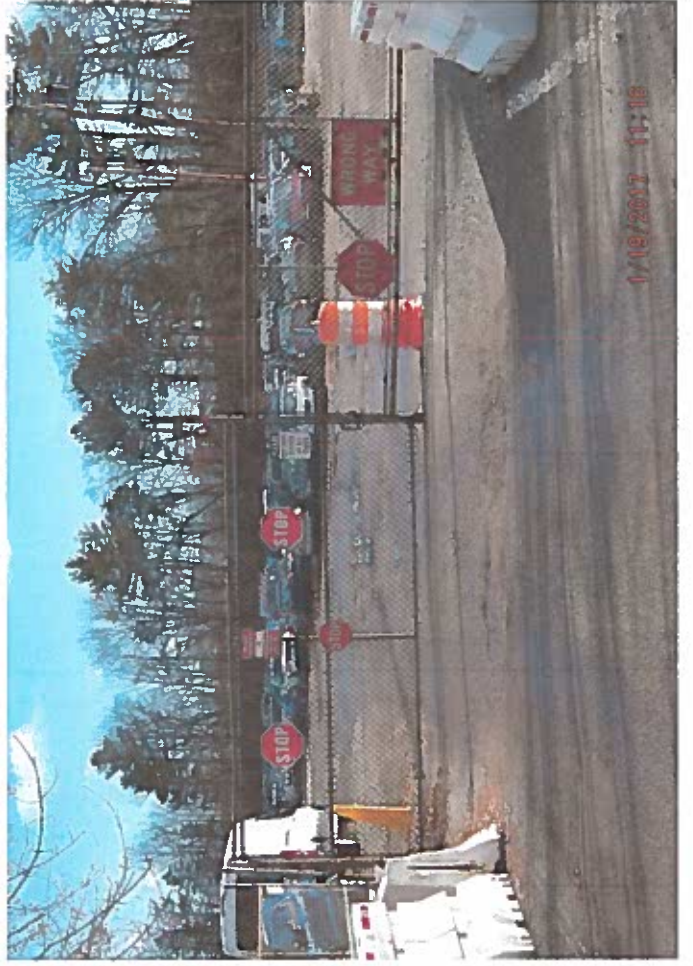

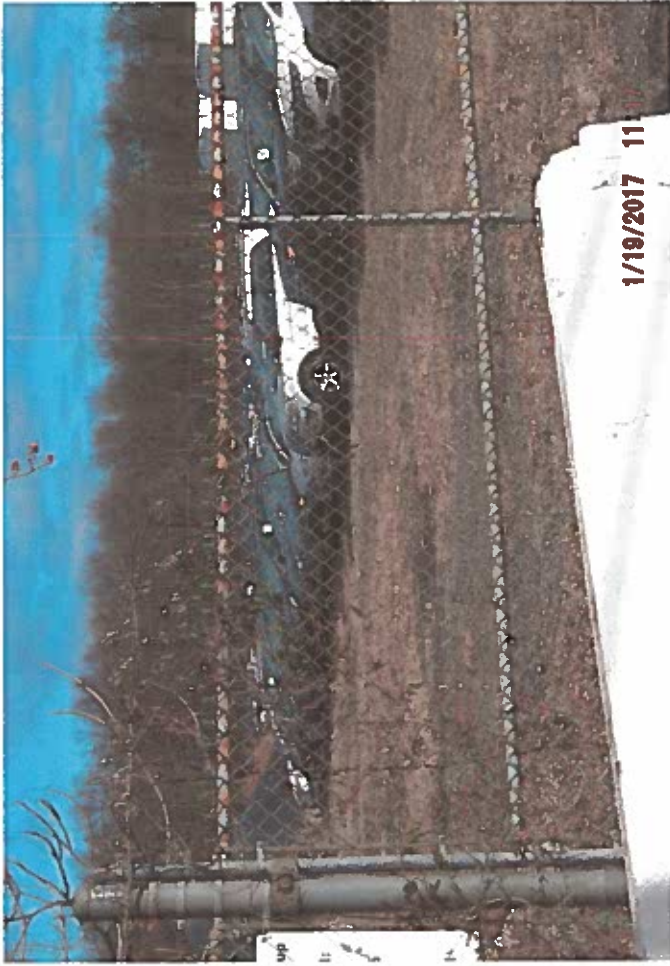

Yours truly,

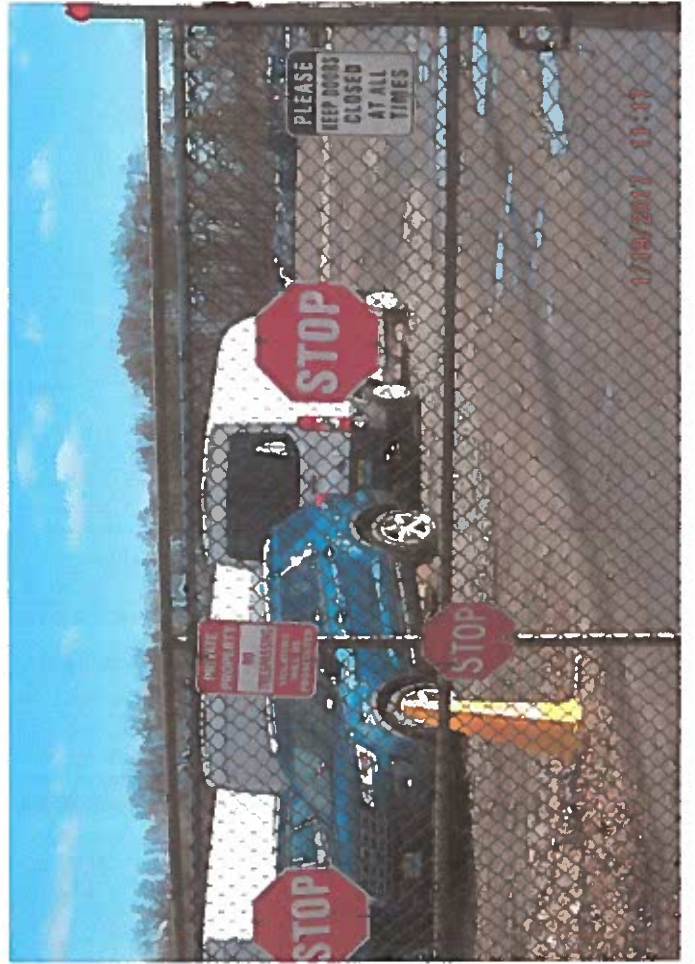

Anthony Petrillo, Assistant Zoning Officer
